A Celebration of Business and Professional Women

Once in a while BPW (Business and Professional Women) Joondalup takes the opportunity to look at just how far women and our organisation have come. Our July dinner meeting will celebrate our achievements at both nationally and locally. It is also our 'changeover night', when we introduce our new executive team for the forthcoming year. Whether you are an existing member or someone who would just like to find out more, we'd love you to help us celebrate why it's great to be a woman!

Our speakers for the evening:

Director of Operations for BPW Australia, Jasmyn Mumme, will take us back to the early days of BPW, why and how it was started. She will also tell us about what the organisation stands for today, its relevance in the lives of all women and how members can become actively involved.

As well as having fun and making friendships, what makes BPW different to many other women's groups is that it actively influences government policies on issues relating to women and children. Sandra Cook, Director of Policy for BPW Australia, will highlight BPW's growing role in developing policy and the real differences it has made through effecting legislative change.

Sophia Bassi is a member of BPW Joondalup and has experienced first hand how the club has helped her to grow her very successful hairdressing business, The Source, in Joondalup. As a new migrant to Australia, Sophia will share with us how she found the support and friendship offered by BPW members to be invaluable in helping her to establish a new life.
