Business and Professional Women Australia

*“Thinking big” over the past 12 months has taken
BPW Joondalup members to new heights...*

Life-changing moments with BPW... a special interview with Jasmyn Mumme

If you have ever wondered what BPW is really about, how and why we influence more than 50,000 women in Australia, not to mention the hundreds of thousands of women in other countries, come and share an evening in July with Jasmyn Mumme, Winner of the Inaugural “Spirit of BPW “ Lena Madessin Phillips Award.

Jasmyn is BPW Australia’s Vice President, national internal policy officer, past state president and of course a member of our own club. She is as enamoured with the history of BPW’s achievements as she is passionate and enthusiastic about BPW’s future and women’s potential .

- Why does BPW have such a high profile at the United Nations yet is little known locally?
- How can membership really enhance your life and also influence the world when you’ve barely got time for things, now?
- Why have consecutive Australian Prime Ministers met regularly with our national president?

Jasmyn will answer these and more questions on how women now have more opportunities to make a difference than ever had before . . .

Changeover Night - - The July dinner meeting is also when the work of the previous executive will be acknowledged and the new team welcomed. We’re inviting key members of the community to join us for this inspiring occasion. Your guests are also invited to hear about BPW’s contribution in today’s world.
